

MIDWEST ORTHOPAEDICS at RUSH

TO PROVIDE THE WORLD'S BEST ORTHOPAEDIC
PATIENT CARE, EDUCATION AND RESEARCH.

Midwest Orthopaedics at RUSH (MOR) is a highly sub-specialized orthopedic private group practice of over thirty physicians, primarily based at Rush University Medical Center, Central DuPage Hospital, and Rush Oak Park Hospital.

The physicians of MOR are board-certified and fellowship-trained in their sub-specialty, hold academic appointments at Rush Medical College, are on the medical staff at Rush University Medical Center, and are active in patient education and research. To learn more about their credentials and achievements, please visit our Web site www.rushortho.com.

U.S. News & World Report ranks the RUSH University Medical Center Orthopedic Program as the nation's sixth best and the top program in the state of Illinois.

Refer to our Professional Profiles starting on page 109 to learn more about MOR.

"We provide the most compassionate, careful and highest standard of care to our patients, to lead in the innovative treatment of orthopaedic conditions, and to pass on the legacy of our teachers by educating others with the knowledge we have been privileged to receive".
